

Cancer is a killer,
It's time we found a cure,
But unless we join together,
This won't happen, that's for sure

Everyday there's people trying,
To stop this loss and pain,
But our loved ones, they're still dying as this illness strikes again

However, help is out there,

And it's never far away
A 'friend' who'll help look after,
Your loved ones every day.

These friends work for a charity,
Which now we'll always give great thought,
And so tonight were raising money for

MACMILLAN.
