MACMILLAN CANCER SUPPORT
RIGHT THERE WITH YOU
Cancer doesn’t just affect your physical wellbeing, it can impact on every aspect of your life and the lives of those around you. But knowing where to turn for support isn’t always easy.

If you have cancer or you are a loved one of someone with cancer, and you live in Dundee, our Improving the Cancer Journey service is here to help you.

We are a free, appointment based service. We can meet you in your local community or at home – wherever you feel most comfortable. We will chat about how you’re feeling, what you’re concerned about and the help you need.

As well as a listening ear, we can offer a wide range of support for emotional, practical and personal issues, tailored to your needs. This could be about money worries, getting around, managing fatigue and any help you might need at home.

We can also put you in touch with other specialist services, who can help you to come to terms with your diagnosis and connect you with others affected by cancer.

“I found the support provided by the ICJ team to be very comprehensive. I hadn’t come across any of the services and help we discussed.”
I made contact with the Improving the Cancer Journey service when I was in a very dark place. I was fortunate to be visited by one of the team and given help and advice. It was an upward struggle, but their expertise and support has made it all worthwhile. I can now face the future and my 'new life'.
