IRONMAN and IRONMAN 70.3 Distance Triathlons

- You are responsible for purchasing your own place in your chosen IRONMAN or IRONMAN 70.3 event via the IRONMAN website.
- If you are taking on an Ironman Distance non-Ironman branded triathlon, please email triathlon@macmillan.org.uk to confirm you can still be eligible.
- You are solely responsible for paying your own costs in connection with this event.

Reimbursement Process

Macmillan Cancer Support will reimburse the cost of your entry fee by reference to the amount of sponsorship raised (not including Gift Aid)*. The amount reimbursed will be 30% of the sponsorship raised (not including Gift Aid) up to the cost of your IRONMAN or IRONMAN 70.3 entry fee. Macmillan is only able to reimburse you after the event has taken place, when we have received proof of purchase of your entry fee and all the sponsorship monies on which you wish us to calculate the reimbursement as we will only make a single reimbursement payment. Macmillan is only able to reimburse you directly and will not pay the money directly to the IRONMAN race organisers.

*To be eligible, you must do the following:

- You will keep evidence of your payment (email receipt, etc) of your entry fee to provide documentation to Macmillan Cancer Support.
- All funds raised through the Challenge must be payable to Macmillan Cancer Support in £ sterling.
- If you set up an online fundraising page, you must include the below text on your page:

"30% of the value of the sponsorship (not including Gift Aid) that I collect (up to the cost of my entry fee) will be reimbursed. This means that Macmillan receives the benefit of 70% or more of my sponsorship."

- You can do this by going to the bit where it says 'Edit your page title, summary and story' and adding it to the section titled 'Tell your supporters your story'.
- Your claim must be received by Macmillan Cancer Support Challenge Team within 3 months following your event date or you will not be eligible for the reimbursement scheme.
- As Macmillan Cancer Support is contributing towards the cost of you taking part in the event, then any donations received from you or a connected person will not be eligible for Gift Aid. You should take reasonable steps to ensure that those sponsoring you are aware of the restrictions on Gift Aid by following the guidance on the page below.
- Should you, for whatever reason, not take up your place, all sponsorship forms and monies collected should be forwarded to Macmillan Cancer Support or returned to your sponsors. You will not be able to claim reimbursement of any of the entry fee from Macmillan Cancer Support.
- It is your responsibility to ensure that you are sufficiently fit to take part in this event and if you are in any doubt about this you will seek advice from your own General Practitioner.
- Any complaints can be made using our online feedback form, in writing to fundraising@macmillan.org.uk or by phone on 0300 1000 200.

Who can add Gift Aid to donations?

We cannot claim Gift Aid on a donation that you or a connected person make towards your event sponsorship as you are taking part in an event where Macmillan is contributing to your entry costs, so counts as a gift aid benefit. If it is clear a connected person has claimed Gift Aid on a donation, we will be unable to process your reimbursement.

A person is considered connected with the donor if they are:

- The donor's spouse, wife, husband, or civil partner.
- A relative, ancestor, or lineal descendant of the donor (for example, a brother, sister, parent, child, grandchild, or grandparent).
- The spouse or civil partner of one of those relatives.
- A company controlled by the donor, or controlled by persons connected with the donor.

If you are also going to use a paper sponsorship form to collect your donations then you need to download this sponsorship form and ensure people directly connected to you do not tick the Gift Aid boxes.

For further information on Gift Aid, you can go to the HMRC website at <https://www.gov.uk/guidance/gift-aid-what-donations-charities-and-cascs-can-claim-on> or contact us.

Our Liability

To the fullest extent permitted by law, Macmillan does not accept responsibility for any liability, loss, death, injury, damage or claim which may arise as a result of your participation in this event, whether in relation to injury or loss to yourself or to any other person.

Use of Personal Data

- You have provided Macmillan certain information about you and consent to Macmillan using this data.
- We will keep your details on our database so we can provide you with the best possible support every time you contact us.
- We do not sell or swap your details with any third parties, but in order to carry out our work we may need to pass your details to service companies authorised to act on our behalf.
- All participants, supporters and spectators, including friends and families who choose to attend the event confirm that they are happy for their names, video footage, photographs taken of them during the event to be used to publicise the event by Macmillan Cancer Support and its trading company (Macmillan Cancer Support Trading Ltd) for commercial and fundraising purposes including, but not limited to marketing material, television broadcasts, social media, advertising, publications, and other documents or mediums that may be made available to the public. Photographs of children will not be used in this manner without express written consent; unless the images are incidental, for example, children's images at the starting line. For further information about how we collect and use personal data, please refer to our Privacy Policy.

Complaints

Any complaints can be made using our online feedback form, in writing to fundraising@macmillan.org.uk or by phone on 0300 1000 200.

Macmillan Cancer Support would like to contact you (including by telephone) about our fundraising, campaigning and services for people affected by cancer. If you would prefer us not to use your details in this way or would like to update your contact preferences, please call our Fundraising Support Centre on 0300 1000 200.
